

I believe that Klove is a unique alternative to regular broadcast stations. We already have more of them than we need here. Klove is the only one of two Contemporary Christian radio stations here locally. It is very good to have a positive alternative to the commercial radio stations which aren't worth listening to. I feel that to make room for more of the same at the expense of Klove would be a crime